- To fit the radiator guard to the bike cut the foam strip provided into 10mm wide pieces and stick them to the back of the radiator guard mesh, so that they sit between the radiator guard and the radiator cover.
- Remove the two bolts and the cable tidy as arrowed in pictures A and B.
- Carefully remove the original radiator surround by gently pulling it forward and down to disengage the two location pins at the top of the radiator surround.
- Offer the mesh into position as shown in pictures C and D and secure using the supplied cable/zip ties as shown in pictures C and D.
- Offer the surround into position as shown in the top picture and engage the two upper location pins as original, then replace the two bolts and cable tidy as original.
